

WORLD SERIES ROARS IN SPA-FRANCORCHAMPS

› The World Series Formula V8 3.5 V8 sound in will roar again for the 11th consecutive time in the iconic Circuit of Spa-Francorchamps.

› The new partnership in 2017 with the FIA WEC will offer the Belgian fans a pure motorsport weekend with the World Series young stars aim to follow the footsteps of Vettel, Ricciardo or Vandoorne!

(02/05/2017) The World Series Formula V8 3.5 is an excellent step for any driver seeking to reach the top and compete at the highest level in major four-wheeled categories. In the past, some Belgian aces played a k-role in the Series as Bertrand Baguette (winner in 2009) or Stoffel Vandoorne.

The 2017 harvest in the World Series Formula V8 3.5 knows there's an important prize to take in Bahain: an LMP1 test will attend the winner at the end of the Season. The second driver in the discipline will test a LMP2 car while the third driver will be allocated in a GTE.

Fittipaldi takes the lead!

In his second year in the World Series Formula V8 3.5, the grandson of Emerson Fittipaldi, Pietro Fittipaldi (Lotus) did a strong start in the Season-Opener in Silverstone taking both poles and achieving both wins. Some of the best frontrunners were spotted in great form as the Sahara Force India development driver Alfonso Celis Jr. (Fortec Motorsports), the SMP Racing by AVF drivers, Matevos Isaakyan and Egor Orudzhev, and Roy Nissany (RP Motorsport). The team owned by Adrian Valles scored an important victory in 2016 in the Ardennes with the reigning driver Tom Dillmann.

Both Damiano Fioravanti and Konstantin Tereschenko opened the score in the Rookie championship. In this second meeting, the young Italian will be fielded in RP Motorsport.

Awesome downforce!

The World Series car has an extraordinary speed in the corners thanks to the efficiency of the engine, the chassis and the tyre performance. The difference in a lap-time in World Series Formula V8 3.5 compared to LMP1 is less than three seconds! And hear them roar in Eau Rouge with their state-of-the-art design look is something the fans just love!

A world-wide broadcasted championship!
