

WORLD SERIES DECIDES MID-SEASON LEADER IN MOTORLAND ARAGON

- › Summer heats the World Series: 5 different winners in 8 races!
- › High Energy : Lotus drivers Binder and Fittipaldi distance in the standings is 1 point

(22/06/2017) World Series Formula V8 3.5 carries on with its tour in the Spanish territory with the celebration of the Round 05. After the Circuito de Jerez and the hat-trick achieved by the Brazilian Lotus driver Lotus, Pietro Fittipaldi, second in the standings by one single point behind his team-mate, Rene Binder, the motorsport world elite visits the futurist Motorland Aragón.

The Summer will heat the World Series as the discipline will decide a solid leader after the event in Bajo Aragón. So far, the driver with more poles (6) and victories (3) is the grandson from the two-times F1 champion and 500 Indy winner, Emerson Fittipaldi. Binder follows in with 2 victories, while Roy Nissany (RP Motorsport), Alfonso Celis Jr (Fortec Motorsport), and Matevos Isaakyan (SMP Racing by AVF) have scored one win each, but Egor Orudzhev must also be considered. The SMP Racing protegee, have scored 4 podiums and still run after his 1st success of the Season.

Rookies want their piece of cake. In 2016, two figli dell'arte, Louis Deletraz and Aurelien Panis, opened the scoring with two solid wins, so Diego Menchaca (Fortec Motorsport), and the two drivers from the Spanish squad, Teo Martin Motorsport, Nelson Mason and Konstantin Tereschenko, who turned 23 last week, hope for a turnout in Alcañiz.

The sporting programme will be completed with the F4 Spanish Championship and the Spanish Clio Cup.
