

2019 PRE-SEASON AND IN SEASON TESTS

Milan, February 5 2019 - All five slick P Zero compounds will be seen in testing this year, but only three colours. To help distinguish them, the hardest and softest tyres available won't carry stripes on the sidewalls.

Mario Isola, Head of F1 and Car Racing - "Normally we will only see three colours at every race, so we're only using three colours at the tests as well. But we want to make sure that people can tell the compounds apart. As a result, the very hardest and softest tyres won't be marked with stripes: only the colours will vary. This will be the case for the in-season tests as well."
